After all, we're a couple hundred people in a tube high above ground without a safety net! Greece is located in southeastern Europe in the 5th-century B.C. capital of Athens, and is a mountainous country with the longest coastline in the Mediterranean. The country is known for historical sites such as the Acropolis and the Parthenon, as well as picturesque island beaches such as Santorini and Mykonos beaches. The main airport in Greece is the Athens International (ATH). For this message, we will focus on how to fly to Athens from the UNITED States using various point and mile options. The best programs for booking flights in Greece, the great thing is that it is easy to get there from the United States. You have both nonstop and 1-stop options to help limit the amount of travel time. We recommend looking for flights as far in advance as possible to make the reward the best possible. The only scenario where you want to search near your departure date is first class Lufthansa flights, whose reward flights are usually released within 2 weeks of the departure date. Greece is served by airline partners from the Oneworld, Star Alliance and SkyTeam alliances. In addition, non-alliance airlines such as Emirates offer flights from the United States to Greece.It is important to note that all the prize pricing in this article is round trip. Depending on the program, you can have the fee price if you only need a one-part flight. Alaska Airlines Mileage PlanUse Alaska miles fly American Airlines business class. Alaska Airlines is not in the airline alliance, but instead has individual partnerships with airlines. When flying to Athens, you will have the opportunity to fly to American Airlines, Aer Lingus, British Airways, Condor, Emirates, Finnair and Icelandair. When weighing fuel surcharge, reward costs and routing options, American Airlines is the partner we recommend. American Airlines AAdvantageUs American Airlines miles fly American Airlines business class. The great thing about using American Airlines miles for flights to Europe is that the AAdvantage program has top pricing for economy flights. The AAdvantage program also allows you to use miles to fly and Iberia to Greece. Due to the british airways fuel surcharge, Iberia is the only partner flight we recommend. Find routing, travel dates, cabin class, and number of passengers. Write down all flight information. Call American Airlines at 800-433-7300 to book a flight. Pay taxes and fees by credit card. American Airlines AAdvantage MilesAmerican Airlines earns miles is relatively easy because it collaborates with Marriott Bonvoy and has several co-branded credit cards that can come with significant welcome offers. When you spend money on Marriott and American Airlines credit cards, you are on your way to book your next rewards flight. If you already have Marriott points and want to transfer them to American Airlines, the point transfer will take 2 days with a 3:1 ratio. Marriott point transfers give you a 5,000-mile bonus for every 60,000 points you transfer. Bottom Line: Keep an eye on American Airlines' AAdvantage program as it's highly likely that the airline will move toward dynamic reward pricing in the near future. This means that the rewards table no longer exists, and instead the reward price is linked to the cash cost of the flight. ANA Mileage ClubANA New 777 The Room Business Class. Image Credit: All Nippon AirwaysANA Mileage Club is the first Star Alliance partner to keep an eye on you. Mileage Club has several sweet spots, including flights from partner airlines, one of which is flights between the UNITED States and Europe. Before you get too excited about the competitive reward pricing shown above, it's important to note that ANA partner flights need to be booked back and forth. Another drawback is that the ANA search engine is not as easy to use as the United Airlines search engine. Cabin ClassANA Miles CostTaxes &img; FeesEconomy55,000$118+Business88,000 $118+Hot Tip: We recommend looking for Star Alliance partner flights first on United's website and then confirming the availability of the same award on the ANA website. There is Star Alliance options you can consider for flights between the U.S. and Greece. You want to focus on LOT Polish, Singapore Airlines (economy), TAP Portugal and United reward flights. Austrian, Brussels, Lufthansa and Swiss Air Lines reward flights have high fuel surcharges, so remember that before booking flights. Below are a couple of options to consider when your ANA account has the required number of Mileage Club miles:Chicago (ORD) – Warsaw (WAW) – Athens (ATH) 55,000 MILES LOT Polish (ORD-WAW), A Economy (WAW-ATH)Newark (EWR) – Athens (ATH) 88,000 MILES United business class We recommend following these steps, when you're ready to book a flight with your ANA miles:Start on united's website. Find routing, travel dates, cabin class, and number of passengers. Confirm the same availability on the ANA website. Book a flight. Pay taxes and fees by credit card. ANA MilesANA collaborates with American Express and Marriott Bonvoy, making the easiest way to earn ANA miles is to transfer your points from these programs to ANA. Unlike many airline programs, ANA does not offer co-branded credit cards to the U.S. market. If you have enough American Express and/or Marriott points to book a flight, Amex point transfers take 2-3 days with a 1:1 ratio and Marriott point transfers 7 days with a 3:1 ratio. Having said that, below are American Express credit cards that we recommend considering:Recommended Amex cards (personal)Platinum card® from American Express - There is currently a new welcome bonus offer of 75,000 membership rewards points after spending $5,000 on purchases in the first 6 months of your card membership. In addition, earn 10x points in the first 6 months on eligible purchases at U.S. gas stations and U.S. supermarkets (up to $15,000 combined as a purchase). This is #1 more than 1,300 airport lounges worldwide (including Priority Pass). We take advantage of ~$3,000+ benefits and benefits per card every year. The terms apply. If you are looking for Amex Platinum card prices and fees, click here. American Express® Gold Card - We love using this card because it earns 4x points in restaurants around the world, including uthen food and delivery, and 4x points in U.S. supermarkets (up to $25,000 per calendar year; then the 1x, terms apply). We don't think there's a better card if you eat out and/or shop in supermarkets regularly; and you have access to many benefits and benefits. With a 60,000-point welcome bonus after spending $4,000 in the first 6 months, it's a strong choice. If you're looking for Amex Gold Card prices and fees, click here. If you are a business owner, we recommend several Amex business credit cards. Bottom Line: Aeroplan and United Airlines can book single-trip airline flights, Consider using ANA miles only if you are interested in booking return flights. Asiana Airlines Asiana ClubUse Asiana miles fly united business class. Image Credit: AirlinesAsiana Airlines Asiana Club is another Star Alliance program worth considering. It's a matter of continuing to fly under the radar, but Asiana Club can offer value if you know how to use it. The main drawback of The Asiana Club is that Star Alliance partner flights require a call to Asiana to book flights. In addition, you cannot use the Asiana Airlines website to search for partner flights with Star Alliance. Cabin ClassAsiana Miles CostTaxes &img; Fees Economy50,000$118+Business80,000$118+Hot Tip: According to ANA, we recommend looking for flights from star alliance partner airline United's website and then calling Asiana to book a reward flight. With Asiana miles in your account, here are a couple of flights to Athens (ATH) that you can book:Boston (BOS) – Lisbon (LIS) – Athens (ATH) 50,000 Asian miles TAP Portugal (BOS-LIS), Aegean Economy (I.D.) – ATH)New York (JFK) – Frankfurt (FRA) – Athens (ATH) 80,000 Asian miles on Singapore Airlines (JFK-FRA), Aegean business class (FRA-ATH)Asiana Club is more challenging than other programs , so we recommend the steps below, to book your flight :Go to United.com to search for the availability of rewards. Enter your route, travel dates, passenger numbers and cabin class. Write down all flight information, including flight numbers, dates, and times. Call Asiana Airlines from 8.30am to 5.m.m pm PST Monday to Friday from 8.30am to 5.30pm.Tell a representative you want to book a Star Alliance reward flight. Enter flight numbers, travel dates, and other flight information. Once Asiana has confirmed the reward status, give them your credit card to pay taxes and fees. Earning Miles miles from Asiana Airlines isn't easy because the airline only has one transfer partner on Marriott Bonvoy. If you have Marriott points, the transfer will take 10 days in a ratio of 3:1, and you will receive an 8,000-mile bonus when you transfer 60,000 Marriott points. Asiana Airlines also has co-branded Bank of America credit cards that earn miles directly on your spend. Avianca LifeMilesUse Avianca miles are flown by Lufthansa first class. Photo Credit: Greg StoneThe Avianca LifeMiles program is yet another Star Alliance airline program that you should consider using for flights to Greece. One of avianca miles' best use bars is to book Lufthansa first or business class. You don't have to pay the fuel surcharge like you did with ANA and Asiana Airlines. One big drawback with Avianca is that its search engine doesn't show the reward availability as Aeroplan and United Airlines. Keep in place that that calling Avianca is painful, so it's best to book only reward flights that you can find on the Lifemiles website. Cathay Pacific Asia MilesCathay Pacific Airbus A350 Business Class Window Seat. Photo Credit: Greg StoneCathay Pacific is our second Oneworld program to be used in addition to American Airlines. There are not many sweet spots in the Asia Miles programme, but one possible mention is to use Asia Miles to fly British Airways with reduced fuel surcharges. Not all Cathay Pacific airline partners can be booked online, making it one of the biggest drawbacks of using Asia Miles. Theoretically, you should be able to book Online. However, the booking process is unlikely to assemble Iberia flights You want to. So you should call Cathay Pacific to book Iberia flights. American Airlines is one of cathay pacific airline partners that you can't book online. Like Iberia, you need to call Cathay Pacific to book American Airlines flights. Once it's out of the way, it's important to note that Asia Miles doesn't have a rewards table when flying a oneworld airline partner. Another way to earn Cathay Pacific Asia Miles is to put expenses on synchrony bank's co-branded credit cards. The expenses you put on these cards earn directly from Cathay Pacific Asia Miles.For those who want to earn Capital One Miles, here are the credit cards we recommend considering applying: Capital One® Venture® Rewards Credit Card - This card is full of perks and benefits. Earn 100,000 bonus miles when you spend $20,000 on purchases in the first 12 months after opening your account, or still earn a 50,000-mile sign-up bonus when you spend $3,000 on purchases within 3 months of opening your account.
